Destroyer's Task To Avoid Collisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veteran U.S. naval officers say the burden of responsibility to avoid collision normally rests on the destroyers rather than the aircraft carriers they escort.

When changing station a destroyer is supposed to avoid crossing the bow of an accompanying carrier and is required to take a wide swinging course to its new position, the officers said in interviews.

While saying they did not want to prejudice an investigation, these officers indicated they accept the Australian version of the South China Sea collision Tuesday in which the Australian carrier Melbourne sliced in half the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans. The bow of the Evans sank and 74 American sailors were lost.

Repeat — "It sounds so much like what's happened before," one U.S. Navy man said.

The Australians have sent the U.S. Navy a classified account which reportedly pictures the Evans as turning one way when she should have turned the other.

The secret report also describes the Evans as running under the bow of the Melbourne, sources said.

In a public statement, the Australian Navy Department has claimed the collision occurred after the Melbourne ordered the Evans, ahead of her in a screen, to change station astern of the carrier.

"Evans approached on a collision course, and, despite urgent action by Melbourne, a collision occurred," the Australian navy said.

Navy Silent — Unlike the Australians the U.S. Navy is saying virtually nothing in public about the incident pending the outcome of a joint U.S.-Australian investigation arranged Wednesday.

One reason for this, sources said, is that the Navy Department hasn't received a report from the Evans' skipper, Cmdr. A.S. McLemore, or other officers who survived.

Most survivors were sleeping when the destroyer was chopped in two.

In their first official account of the disaster, none of the survivors interviewed reported any prior warning. But naval officials at Pearl Harbor emphasized it did not necessarily mean there was none.

"A large part of the crew was asleep," a Navy spokesman said, "and everything happened so fast. There may have been sirens and bells—we don't know."

The forward section of the Evans sank within minutes, engulfing 73 seamen within the severed hull. Another was killed. His was the only body recovered.

Cite Heroism — Aboard the Kearsarge Wednesday, some of the survivors talked for the first time to Navy investigators.

They told of heroism among shipmates, fires and explosions following the impact and calmness despite the horror.

"At first I thought we had run aground," Seaman Apprentice Mark A. Gee of Port Angeles, Wash., said. "Suddenly, everything heaved to starboard."

Engineerman C.C. Charles M. Frey of San Mateo, Calif., said the impact knocked him through the ripped hull into the water. "I looked around," he said. "I was alongside of the captain. We both hung on to debris and were soon picked out of the water by the Australians."

The assassination gave me a new outlook on life—live now, enjoy now, sort of," he says.

Burger Awaits Senate Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warren E. Burger, up today for Senate confirmation as chief justice, feels he has no commitments to either conservative or liberal philosophies in his direction of the Supreme Court.

Senate action on the appointment of Burger as successor to Chief Justice Earl Warren was speeded up by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

The Republican senator suggested to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield that the Senate act immediately on the nomination instead of waiting until Monday. Mansfield, who had said previously that the Senate would make a full investigation of all future court nominees, raised no objection.

Burger himself was surprised by the speedup, but he seemed eager to get into harness as the chief justice.

The nominee told friends he feels he is taking his place as the head man on the court without any mandate to follow any particular political philosophy.

He was especially emphatic in denying that he was a captive of the conservatives who have hailed his promotion from the District of Columbia court of appeals as an indication of President Nixon's support of their viewpoint.

Burger insisted he could not be classed as either a conservative or a liberal. He indicated he felt comfortable in the middle of the road. While he had acquired the reputation of being a strict constructionist of the Constitution, the judge reminded his friends that he was proud of the liberal opinions he had rendered as a member of the judiciary.

He intimated that conservatives who believe he is in their pocket might be surprised by his course.

Plaza Honors J. F. Kennedy — DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Construction of a plaza in memory of the late President John F. Kennedy should begin in July or August and be completed by November or December of this year, County Judge W. L. Sterrett said Wednesday.

A design for the plaza by Phillip John has been approved at a special meeting of the County Commissioners Court and the John F. Kennedy Memorial Commission.

Site of the memorial is in downtown Dallas, near the place where Kennedy was assassinated in 1963. The plaza was financed by public subscription.

Military authorities said 300 soldiers, police and volunteers would try to climb the mountain today and hoped to reach the crash site by early afternoon.

Two U.S. Coast Guard helicopters from New Orleans, La., and Corpus Christi, Tex., and several helicopters sent by the Mexican government were to try to reach the scene this morning if there was a break in the rainy, foggy weather.

Authorities said if the choppers couldn't land on the mile-high mountain, climbers would try to bring the bodies out by "sheer manpower." There are no roads on the uninhabited mountain in the Sierra Madres, and the climb is a dangerous one.

Violence Report Labels Nation As 'Bloody-Minded'

Persons Shot By Sirhan Are Recovering

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wounds suffered by the five persons shot with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy a year ago today have healed. But for three of them, pain or occasional numbness remain.

Elizabeth Evans, 43, a housewife, says that sometimes when she brushes her hair she forgets for a moment. The bristles saw roughly across the Z-shaped scar at her hairline. The pain is brief, but intense.

Ira Goldstein, 20, has recurring pains in his left leg. Sometimes it goes numb or stiffens after he drives a car to work, forcing him to limp.

Irwin Stroll, 18, also has a bum left leg now. It freezes now and then, seems to be without feeling. Once he almost fell down the stairs when it went numb.

Every time William Weisel, 31, takes off his clothes a foot-long scar on his stomach is a reminder of the night Kennedy was slain just after proclaiming victory in California's Democratic presidential primary.

Paul Schrade, 44, labor union organizer, was hospitalized the longest—six months.

Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, now on San Quentin's death row, was convicted of shooting them and Kennedy.

Of the group, only Weisel, a newsman from Washington, D.C., agrees with the death penalty for Sirhan: "If you do something like this you should be ready for the punishment."

Weisel thought he was going to die. A bullet lodged near his spine.

"The assassination gave me a new outlook on life—live now, enjoy now, sort of," he says.

New Team Acts On School Aid

LANSING (AP) — House and Senate leaders are regrouping and enlarging their negotiating teams which must try to settle differences between the chambers over the $847.4 million public school aid bill.

The two chambers have approved budgets for the coming school year that are some $4 million apart, but the Senate refused to accept an interhouse compromise that cut out $1.4 million for the dissolving Wayne County, Nankin Mills School District.

Seeking fresh approaches, House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, and Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, are planning to increase their bargaining teams from three to seven members.

Senate Education Committee Chairman Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, says only three of each team would vote on all proposals, while the other four are to participate in the talks.

"I am astounded at the thrust of these accounts and am particularly resentful of the implication that I furtively signed these deeds shortly before leaving office," Agnew said Wednesday in a statement released from his Washington office.

Chile Shuts Out Rocky

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — A third South American country—Chile—has shut the door to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's mission, but the Nixon administration shows no sign of calling off the tour.

President Eduardo Frei's government decided Rockefeller had better stay away after two days of clashes between police and students in the capital. Wednesday a group of students stoned the U.S. Consulate and burned an American flag.

A Foreign Ministry communique said: "The Chilean government has informed Gov. Rockefeller of the convenience of suspending his visit to our country."

The communique added that Foreign Minister Gabriel Valdes would be in Washington later this week and would call on President Nixon. Valdes also will get together with Rockefeller to discuss "the purposes and objectives" of Rockefeller's visit to Chile, the communique said.

Rockefeller and a large group of experts have completed two whirlwind tours of parts of Latin America and have two more around the rest of the area scheduled. The official purpose is to collect information and data on which the Nixon administration can formulate a new policy toward Latin America. But many Latin Americans consider the tour primarily a goodwill gesture.

Rockefeller's second swing last week was curtailed before it started when Peru said he wasn't welcome because Washington had cut off military aid to Peru. That leg was trimmed some more when Venezuela over the weekend asked for postponement of the governor's visit after students threatened demonstrations. And in seven of the nine countries Rockefeller has visited, violence has marred his stays.

The governor issued a statement in New York expressing regret at the Chilean government's action but saying he fully understood it.

Ohio Fishermen Lost Near Sault — SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Coast Guard helicopters and boats searched Lake Superior and Whitefish Bay near Sault Ste. Marie today for a twin-engine plane missing since Wednesday with two Ohio fishermen aboard.

The Coast Guard pressed two helicopters from its Traverse City base and two cutters from Sault Ste. Marie into the hunt for the Beechcraft 77 biplane.

Officials at the 9th District Coast Guard headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio, identified the men aboard the plane as Henry Kollitz and M. Catterman, both of Toledo.

The plane, carrying a load of frozen fish, failed to show up at Sault Ste. Marie on a refueling stop after leaving a fishing site near Jellico, Ont., officials said.

Three other planes which had been in a group with the Beechcraft landed for refueling at Sault Ste. Marie and returned to Wagon Wheel Airport near Erie, just north of Toledo.

Refueling was necessary because the planes had only about five hours of fuel after leaving the fishing site, the Coast Guard said.

Officials said the Beechcraft was last sighted near Copper Mine Point in Canada, 50 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie.

It was the third time within the past two weeks that a plane has been lost around Michigan. Three members of a Grand Rapids family were presumed dead after their plane crashed in northern Lake Huron Sunday.

Four Lansing residents were lost when their plane disappeared May 21 on a flight to Lansing from the Upper Peninsula.

Agnew Denies Wrong-Doing — BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has denied any "implication of wrong-doing or faulty judgment" in the transfer of valuable state tidelands to a private developer a month before he left office as Maryland governor.

John Smith, Not You Too?

What's in a name? Plenty — especially if your name is Smith. According to the Veterans Administration, Smith is the most popular (310,000) among veterans in the VA's master index file of names.

And, if you are John Smith, the VA reports that you are one of 13,130 in its file.

The Johnsons (202,700) not only are keeping up with the Joneses but are far out in front. In fact, even the Williamses — with 150,020 — are ahead of the fourth place Joneses, who number 145,180. In fifth place are the Browns with 144,000.

The VA points out that with more than 31 million names in its master index even somewhat unusual names may be duplicated many times.

While there are only 10 veterans with the name Abraham Lincoln, the VA file contains 1,640 Robert E. Lees. There are 44 Ulysses S. Grants and 496 George Washingtons.

Release Report On Anniversary Of RFK's Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are a rather bloody-minded people who "are likely to remain so as long as so many of us think violence is an ultimate solution to social problems," a task force for the National Commission on Violence reported today.

The 300,000 word report by two scholars was released on the anniversary of the fatal shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, whose assassination led to formation of the National Commission on Violence.

It's the first of several task force reports to be issued by the commission, which already has published investigative studies of several civil disorders in the United States in 1968.

Historical — The main body of the bulky, two-volume report is a collection of historical and sociological studies delving into violence in the United States since its founding.

A brief summary—by historian Hugh Davis Graham of Johns Hopkins University and political scientist Ted Robert Gurr of Princeton—contained these observations:

"Americans have always been a violent people, although this violence has assumed different forms and has involved different groups . . .

"But Americans have been given to a kind of historical amnesia that masks much of their turbulent past. Probably all nations share this tendency to sweeten memories of their past through collective repression, but Americans have probably magnified this process of selective recollection, owing to our historic vision of ourselves as a latter-day chosen people, a New Jerusalem."

1960's Most Violent — But, Graham and Gurr say, "the 1960s rank as one of our most violent eras."

Added to the black-white confrontations of recent years, the scholars said:

"Contemporary antiwar protest is unprecedented, both in scope and magnitude, as is university unrest and the chilling recent contagion of political murders of national leaders . . .

"Rates of violent crime may have generally declined as the industrial metropolis matured, only to have spiraled alarmingly in recent years—much of it reflecting the pathology of the black ghettos."

The report offered these statistical measures:

"In numbers of political assassinations, riots, politically relevant armed group attacks, and demonstrations, the United States has been among the half-dozen most tumultuous nations in the world."

Participation — "But despite its frequency, civil strife in the United States has taken much less disruptive forms than in many non-Western and some Western countries."

"Eleven of every thousand Americans took part in civil strife from mid-1963 to mid-1968 —almost all of it turmoil rather than conspiracy or internal war—compared with an average of seven per thousand in 17 other Western democracies in a similar five-year period."

"Six of these 17 had higher rates of participation than the United States, including Belgium, France, and Italy."

"Although 220 Americans died in violent civil strife in the five years before mid-1968, the rate of 1.1 per million population was infinitesimal compared with the average of 238 deaths per million for all nations, and less than half the European average of 2.4 per million."

Stable Republic — "In total magnitude of strife, taking into account the unusual frequency and duration of strife in the United States as well as its more moderate levels of participation and casualties, the United States ranks first among the 17 Western democracies, and 24th among the 114 larger nations and colonies of the world."

"Paradoxically," the report

Race Horses Lost In Blaze

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Between 45 and 50 race horses perished early today as fire swept through a barn at Saratoga Raceway.

A second barn, also housing thoroughbreds, caught fire but was saved.

Firemen said the destroyed barn was completely engulfed in flames by the time they reached the scene shortly after 4 a.m.

They turned their efforts toward saving the second barn, the roof of which had caught fire.

No horses in the second barn were injured, firemen said.

There was no indication yet what caused the fire and no dollar estimate as to loss.

The fire was discovered by Saratoga Springs policemen on their routine nightly rounds.

A cruiser policeman said he saw the night sky around the racetrack emblazoned in orange as he returned to it from the other side of the resort city.

He had left the scene after a routine patrol around 3:45 and was on his way back at 4.

Mexican Jetliner Down; 79 Are Believed Dead

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — Seventy-nine persons, including Mexico's hope for the Davis Cup and a former president of the nation's ruling party, are believed to have died in the crash of a Mexican jetliner on a mountain.

A helicopter pilot who flew over the wreckage of the Mexicana de Aviacion plane reported debris was scattered across the side of the mountain 30 miles west of Monterrey and was still burning hours after the crash Wednesday. He said there was no chance anyone survived and no sign of life on the cloud-covered mountain.

Rescue workers were within eight miles of the scene when bad weather and rugged terrain halted them Wednesday night.

The Boeing 727 jet was approaching Monterrey airport on a flight from Mexico City Wednesday morning when the pilot was told the landing strip was closed due to bad weather. He headed northwest, and it was thought he might have landed at an alternate airfield.

But when there was no further word of the plane, more than a score of aircraft joined a search of the desolate region around Monterrey.

On the passenger list were Rafael Osuna, Mexico's top tennis player, who engineered his country's upset victory over Australia in the Davis Cup interzone play last month, and Carlos Madrazo, former president of the Institutional Revolutionary party, and his wife.

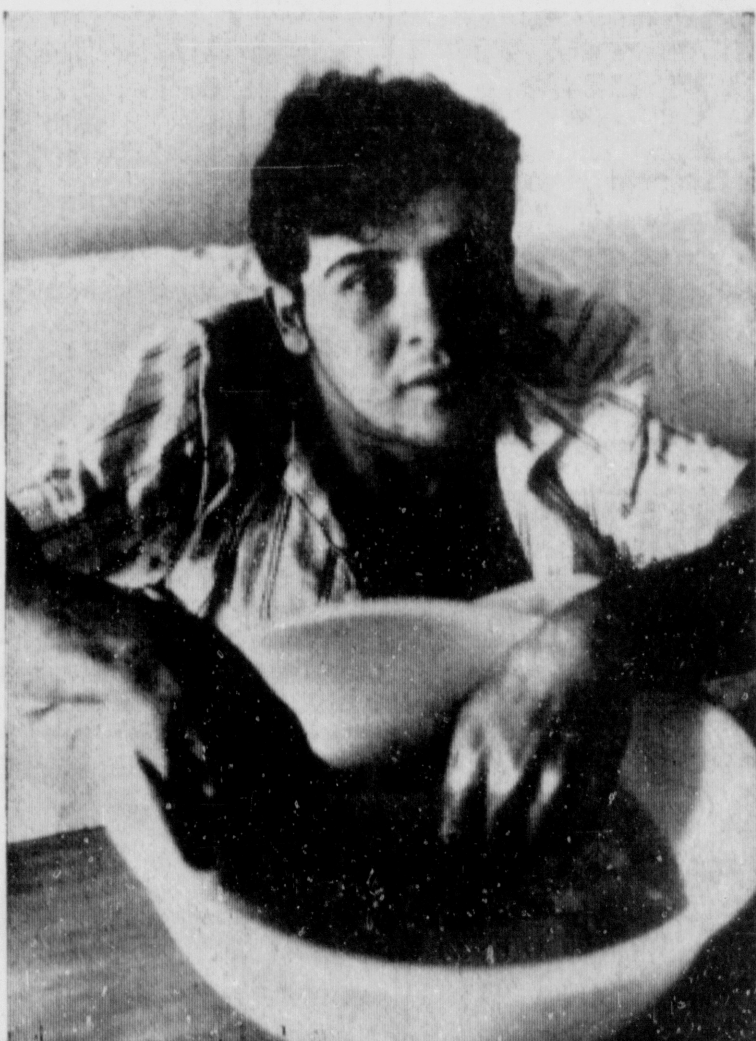

Two U.S. Coast Guard helicopters from New Orleans, La., and Corpus Christi, Tex., and several helicopters sent by the Mexican government were to try to reach the scene this morning if there was a break in the rainy, foggy weather.

Authorities said if the choppers couldn't land on the mile-high mountain, climbers would try to bring the bodies out by "sheer manpower." There are no roads on the uninhabited mountain in the Sierra Madres, and the climb is a dangerous one.

He and another young Cuban stowed away above the wheel of a Spanish DC8 jetliner in Havana Tuesday night before the plane took off for Madrid. The other youth fell to his death a few minutes after takeoff. Socarras rode for seven and a half hours at 29,000 feet with only the wheel covers protecting him from temperatures of 40 below zero. He fell unconscious and half frozen from his hiding place after landing in Madrid, but doctors said he will recover. (AP Wire-photo)

Governor Snaps Deadlock Over Water Bond Use

LANSING (AP)—Intervention by Gov. William Milliken has broken a weeks-old deadlock in a joint legislative committee and moved $335 million closer to its intended use—water pollution control and sewage treatment.

The compromise on legislative control over distribution of the bonds—$285 million for pollution control and sewage treatment projects, $50 million for outstate and suburban connecting sewers—would "breeze through" the upper house, according to one Senate leader.

House and Senate conferees agreed Wednesday on a two-stage legislative approval of projects recommended by the water resources commission. Appropriations committees of both chambers would conduct detailed reviews of the commission's recommendations, then a joint resolution would give the final stamp of approval.

House delegates claimed a victory after holding out against Senate insistence on the more formal scheme for approving by passing a bill.

"There won't be any abuse or porkbarreling," predicted Rep. Warren Goemaere, D-Roseville, co-chairman of the House Conservation Committee.

The House substantially revised a Senate-originated bill that called for the Legislature to award funds for local treatment and construction projects.

Fear of porkbarreling and a desire for a faster reviewing procedure prompted the changes. Conservationists and civil engineers say projects should be approved by early spring each year to take advantage of construction seasons and avoid soaring material and labor costs.

Milliken reiterated those arguments, but clamor over procedure and Senate suspicion of a House plan for rebates to phased-out community treatment plants drowned out his voice for a time.

Reds Compare Nixon To LBJ

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam accused President Nixon today of outdoing former President Lyndon B. Johnson in intensifying the Vietnamese war in pursuit of "neo-colonialist aims."

South Vietnam at the 20th session of the expanded peace talks accused the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong of trying to delay negotiations "because you expect a military victory."

The United States was more restrained, asking North Vietnam whether it was prepared to withdraw its forces in a peace settlement.

Ha Van Lau, North Vietnam's deputy representative, devoted almost his entire speech to an attack on the Nixon administration. He sat in for chief negotiator Xuan Thu, who is in Hanoi for consultation.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who leaves later in the day en route to Midway Island for the meeting of Nixon Sunday with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, asked a series of questions about the Viet Cong's 10-point peace plan.

South Vietnam's chief negotiator, Pham Dang Lam, opened the session by declaring that "no question related to the future of the 17 million people of Vietnam can be discussed and solved without the participation and the approval" of the Saigon government.

Senators Deny They Are 'Isolationists'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of administration military policy, including at least one Republican, are taking strong issue with what they see as President Nixon's implications they are "the new isolationists."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright led the expected outcry from Democratic opponents of the Vietnam war and the proposed Safeguard antiballistic missile system—ABM—after Nixon's speech at the Air Force Academy.

But joining the barrage of Democratic dissent was Republican Sen. James B. Pearson of Kansas who said he doesn't know any fellow critics of high-level military spending who want unilateral U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam or to disarm alone.

"I disagree with the President," Pearson, an ABM critic, said in an interview. "What we want to do is to prevent the start of a new nuclear arms race. And I don't think it's isolationism to oppose excessive military spending."

Nixon said new isolationists have declared "open season on the armed forces" and were charting a disastrous course posing a false choice between meeting responsibilities at home or abroad.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Nixon's references to new isolationists offended him greatly.

Nixon's speech came the same day that Fulbright appeared before a Senate-House subcommittee to advocate a crackdown on defense outlays.

At an impromptu news conference, Fulbright accused Nixon of trying to make critics appear unpatriotic.

"Neither I nor this subcommittee is attacking the military forces of this country," Fulbright said. "We are questioning the political judgments that led us into this quagmire."

Another Democrat, Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, said it was unfortunate Nixon implied that "those who are vigorously opposing the ABM and defense boondoggles are unilateral disarmers and new isolationists."

Students Block Mail At Wayne

DETROIT (AP) — Two picketers seeking recognition of a student mail assistants union by Wayne State University were arrested Tuesday on charges of disorderly conduct when they tried to block a university mail truck from leaving a building.

About 35 student assistants who deliver campus mail went on strike May 9 demanding union recognition from the university. They are paid $1.35 an hour and work about 20 hours a week.

After Eugene Gogal, 26, and Anna Marie K. Hoekstra, 20, were arrested, about 60 students picketed the office of WSU President William Keast.

They left when they were told the two had been released and their charge reduced from disorderly conduct to disrupting traffic.

Although the blocked truck was the first to leave the building since last Thursday, university officials say the student strike has not caused any "serious trouble, just a little inconvenience."

Youth Looks At Future:

Respect, Tolerance, Hard Work Are Goals

Virtues of responsibility, good citizenship, hard work, and understanding are still the framework for achievement and personal satisfaction among today's youth—but they are coupled with an awareness of youth's role in a changing world and the challenge of the times.

This was in summary the reports presented to the Escanaba Rotary Club by Miss Susan LeMire of Holy Name High School and Stephen Jurmu of Escanaba Area Public High School Wednesday noon.

They spoke at the Rotary Club's annual luncheon for honor students and their parents. Jurmu received the Rotary Boy award from Escanaba High and Miss LeMire the Rotary Girl award at Holy Name High School.

Dr. Richard Rinehart, president of the Rotary Club, conducted the meeting; the Rev. Philip Lyon, club program chairman, introduced the school officials who presented the honor students.

Sister Mary Christine and Brother Mark presented honor graduates of Holy Name and Principal Robert Micensky those of Escanaba Area High School. The students in turn introduced their parents.

Susan LeMire

Miss LeMire said: "I am very proud to have been chosen as a Rotary Award winner from Holy Name High School, and my thanks goes to all, especially the Rotary Club, my parents, teachers, and everyone else who is instrumental in the development of responsible citizenship."

"I'd like to take just a few minutes now to express an assortment of opinions on a very substantial part of what America is—the youth, the over 80,000,000 million Americans under the age of 20."

"What is happening to our young people? They disrespect their elders, they disobey their parents. They ignore the laws. They riot in the streets inflamed with wild notions. Their morals are decaying. What is to become of them?"

"Fellow graduates and parents, we hear accusations similar to this all too often today—from parents, teachers, politicians, religious leaders, almost anyone who believes himself qualified to comment. In fact the quote which I have just given is credited to a famous author, Plato, the Greek philosopher. He wrote those words over 2,300 years ago. These words reveal the true age of a so-called 'recent' problem.

"What causes the uneasiness, the revolt of the young people today, as in so many past generations? Father Theodore Hesburgh, president of the University of Notre Dame, claims the immediate cause to be 'the affluent society that prizes intelligence, that provides the best schooling. The affluence of many of the parents who have freed their children from worrying where the next dollar is coming from. They have had more time to think, to discuss, to criticize, to read, to travel, to compare, to judge, and all this has its consequences.'

"Father Hesburgh is right. Many times, for example, at school in class, or at social gatherings of friends, we find that the conversation will drift to either heated or peaceful discussion on relevant topics of the day. We do find more time to think, discuss and even complain. This thinking, and complaining is only normal and healthy—just look at the world that we have graduated into. We are only doing our part in remaking this world. Doing our share as citizens in creating a livable world for us. True, there are limits as to the procedure involved and some of these limits are being exceeded. But those who do find it necessary to be destructive and violent are gradually being overshadowed by the success of those who choose to be respectable, responsible, and still be challenging citizens."

"This is the road to take. To be complimentary rather than totally competitive. To learn to respect and tolerate, but still retain the privilege of question."

"Hopefully, we as graduates, will travel on this road—to understand, and at the same time to take action that is based on intelligence rather than emotion. This is my air. One that I believe will make me a better and more meaningful citizen in my community, state, and country."

Stephen Jurmu

Jurmu said in part: "It has been said that a young person's success is not guaranteed, nor his failure assured through a relationship with one or two people. Rather, it involves many persons; parents, teachers, clergymen, and others. Our teachers, probably more than anyone other than our parents, have been a part of this success.

"The lessons they have taught us have been far more important than classroom instruction, per se, because we have been shown truths which will affect us the rest of our lives."

"We have learned the value of honest hard work. We have come to realize that the only truly meaningful things in life are obtained through effort; nothing worthwhile comes easy."

"We have come to realize that in a society such as ours, everyone must do his part."

"Most of all, however, we have learned the value of discipline in our individual lives. I can think of no better example of this than my experience as a member of the two undefeated teams under Coach Jerry Cvangros. We never had a great deal of talent. We had no 9.6 halfbacks or 240-pound tackles. But we had discipline instilled in us by our coaches. This one fact, more than any other, molded us into a powerful unit which never cracked under the pressure of a 20-game winning streak."

"Discipline plays an important part in any consideration of our future. Without self-discipline, we will fail to meet those challenges. This we cannot afford to do."

"The domestic and world situations today are such that we can no longer ignore the problems which are already becoming our problems. We must find the reasons why our cities rot while we have the technology to send men to the moon. But we must also eradicate the misconception that anyone has the right to break laws under the auspices of reform and expect amnesty as a reward."

"Scientific advances in America over the past decade have been staggering, and this field's future seems limitless. But social science, which holds the real key to our future, has not begun to keep pace. We can understand and often even duplicate many of the marvels of our amazing universe, yet we cannot comprehend that under the skin of the black man is a heart and soul."

"Education must play an important role in the resolving of these crises. For its role to be effective, we must strive for an improved and strengthened educational system to meet an ever-changing world. We must, to a more total extent, take the esoteric out of education and allow ideals to begin to manifest themselves in concrete proposals for the improvement of our America."

"Because of our faith in our system of education and because of our faith in ourselves, we will, with God's help, meet the challenge together, grateful for lessons we've learned and opportunities we've had as we set our sights on an America that will be physically strong, morally straight, and spiritually upright."

The session will extend from Monday, June 23, to Friday, Aug. 1, and will operate in the Webster and Lemmer Schools.

Two periods of instruction will be held during morning hours only. The early session is from 7:50 to 10, and the later one is from 10:20 to 12:30.

"A tentative transportation schedule has been devised, but adjustments will be made along the route if required," said Louis Diehrich, program director.

Children will be picked up at Cornell, Wells, Soo Hill, Pine Ridge and Ford River Schools with other stops along the routes.

Driver George Choler will make pickups at Lombardi Corner at 9:15, Ford River School at 9:30, Hyde Corner at 9:40, and Pine Ridge School at 9:50.

Rock School Election Monday

The Rock School election will be held at the Rock school from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. Monday, June 9. Ahti Waak and Osmo Aalto, incumbents, are candidates for four year terms. Michael Connors is a candidate for the three year term to fill a vacancy.

Voters of the Rock Public School District, comprised of Ewen, Maple Ridge and Turin Townships, will be asked at this time to renew the four mills for a period not to exceed five years.

School taxes in the Rock Public School District are the third lowest in the Upper Peninsula. This tax renewal is essential to maintain the present program.

But Will Talk Trade:

Morley-Murphy To Stay In Escanaba

The Morley - Murphy Co., wholesale Hardware, has no intention of leaving Escanaba and it so far has had no contact with the City of Escanaba on proposals for trade of property—but it is willing to talk.

The clarification came to the Daily Press in a statement by P. S. Zilles, executive vice-president, Morley-Murphy Co., Green Bay.

His comment followed publication of a report by City Manager George Harvey to the City Council of the manager's thinking on suggestions that the Morley-Murphy building in the 400 block, Ludington St., might be acquired by the city for a city hall.

Recommendation that such conversations be opened came from the Escanaba Planning Commission, and a trade of property was suggested.

Expanding Here

Vice-President Zilles today reported to the Daily Press: "I understand that there has been some concern amongst our Escanaba employees, including our salesmen and our dealers, regarding the recent news release that appeared in the Escanaba Daily Press, so let's look at the facts."

"You know, we are on an expansion program in Escanaba in our plumbing, heating, electrical, and industrial departments. We have already added new lines and a greater selection of merchandise."

"We have and are expanding our sales force in all three of these departments and expect to be an ever increasingly important factor in these lines in the Upper Michigan territory."

"We recently spent a considerable amount of money to improve our customer service with new call and waiting facilities and a more readily available office arrangement."

"We have no intention of leaving Escanaba as the Escanaba Branch is an important part of our organization. The lines being continued require local inventories."

"There has always been a transfer of personnel between our branches both to and from Green Bay and, as you know, both Claude Bohn and Earl Deiforge were transferred to Escanaba."

"Our new building at Green

Bay is to replace (not for branch absorption) four buildings now being used, two of them six stories each, approximately 160' x 60'; a three story building, approximately 100' x 50'; and the fourth being our warehouse No. 5 which is 340' x 60'.

Financial Factor

"You should know, we have had no contact from the City of Escanaba to trade our Escanaba property."

"We shall be glad to discuss any trade with the City which will not result in a financial disadvantage to the Morley-Murphy Co."

"Our customer relationship is very important to us so please convey the above information to our customers as you come in contact with them to offset some of the rumors that are now being carried by competition which are contrary to the facts."

"We feel confident that we will also have the cooperation of Mr. Harvey and the Escanaba Daily Press to offset whatever rumors this press release has generated, as they are receiving copies of this, and we assure them of our fullest cooperation in developments that are to our mutual advantage."

"I will be in Escanaba within the next week or 10 days and will at that time be very happy to discuss any of these details with you and again assure you that we do appreciate the very fine cooperation that our Escanaba personnel has extended in reorganizing our approach to market in the Upper Michigan territory."

Air Pollution Law Studied

Delta County Citizens To Save Our Air met Wednesday night at the Escanaba Civic Center in a public meeting. A report was given by the Ordinance Committee on its work in drafting a county air pollution law. Nino Green was appointed legal counsel for the group.

S. C. Sweeney, sanitarian for the Delta Menominee Health Department was a guest of the group.

Emer Peterson, president of the group, reported on efforts in behalf of citizens who had complained about the operation of an asphalt plant at the new airport improvement project. They claimed damage to health and property from the excessive smoke and dirt in connection with this plant.

The Save Our Air executive board put them in touch with Jack McKichen, local administrator of the state air pollution law.

Peterson also reported that the group had been invited to participate in a public meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters along with the Mead Corp. to discuss the possible pollution problems of the proposed sulphate kraft mill.

He said they had accepted the invitation but the Mead Corp. had not accepted the League of Women Voters' meeting invitation.

The next meeting of the group will be next Tuesday, June 10, at the James T. Jones Elementary School in Gladstone at 7:30. At this time further progress of the Ordinance Committee will be reported. Interested citizens are invited.

Garden Club Is Given Preview Of Wildflowers

A preview of the wildflowers that bloom throughout the year in this area was presented to the Delta County Garden Club at its meeting in the hospitality room, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Escanaba, Wednesday night.

Mrs. Raino Maki, Rapid River, president of the club, conducted the meeting and introduced Mr. and Mrs. Clint Dunathan, who gave a program of color slides and commentary on Delta County wildflowers.

In pursuit of their hobby of identifying and photographing wild flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Dunathan have traveled hundreds of miles on roads and trails in Delta County.

Some flowering plants they have found are rare, like the orchids, and others are most unusual — such as the skunk cabbage and the cancer root. Plant specimens they have collected are now in Cranbrook Institute of Science herbarium.

Of 52 wild orchids growing in Michigan, the Dunathans have found and identified 17 in Delta County — including the rare Calypso and Ram's Head. Their search continues for additional plants of the orchid family.

The next meeting of the Garden Club will be held July 2.

He will return to Cecil Field, Jacksonville, Fla., after his leave, for further assignment.

Sheriff Gets Someone's Goat

A new fugitive was brought into the county jail at 1 a. m. this morning. He walks on all fours, has a short tail and is kind of cute.

It all started when four youths, riding down Danforth Rd. near Harnischfeger Corp., almost hit a stubborn small animal that would not get off the road.

Seeing that the little fellow was in great jeopardy of being hit by the next car that might come along, the youths decided to capture the tiny beast and take it to the county jail.

Upon arrival at the jail the animal was tentatively pronounced as a goat and handed over to the county dog warden. Who else?

"We haven't checked whether it's a nanny or a billy," said Sheriff Harold Finman. "But the owner has three days to get over here and claim it."

The sheriff said that if no one claimed the goat it would be given away.

Thirteen Years

Once each year, high schools through the nation go through the ritual of graduation week, complete with caps and gowns, honors and scholarship awards programs, Baccalaureate Service and finally commencement and the parties of celebration that follow.

Holy Name High School this year graduated 129 seniors. Escanaba Area High School graduated 328. Gladstone High School diplomas were awarded to 127 seniors and Manistique High School will graduate 162. The other smaller schools of the area — Rock, Bark River-Harris, Carney-Nadeau, Powers-Snelling, Hermansville, Trenary, Perkins, Rapid River and Big Bay de Noc — add another couple of hundred students to the total.

It's a time of great "Pomp and Circumstance" and of great joy for graduates and parents alike. Pictures by the hundreds are taken of the "historic" moment for young people, who, despite the tired old phrase used by thousands of commencement speakers, will become the leaders of tomorrow.

How many of them are ready?

Our system of public education which by local and state taxation provides generally cost-free instruction through high school seems to tell us that after 13 years of classes in elementary grades, junior high school and senior high school that our young people change from students to adults the moment the diploma is presented.

But do they?

Is 13 years of education the "magic" number for everyone?

Obviously it is not.

As each person is different, physically and emotionally, so must his or her educational needs be different.

Our public schools have attempted to cope with these varying needs through broader curriculum, expanding the traditional 3 R's to include music, art, typing, business machines, chemistry, physics, biology, sociology, welding and machine shop and other technical, academic or occupational courses, but the total educational process is not necessarily complete at the end of the 13th year.

Educators are beginning to recognize the differences in students through accelerated learning programs and programs which allow students to work and learn at their own pace, but perhaps the theories which are changing the educational process might be extended ever further.

Except for the occasional "genius" child who makes headlines by completing high school at the age of 10 and the dropouts who leave school as soon as legally possible, our young people are high school students through the 13th students could be helped to more productive lives year of education.

Isn't it possible, however, that some of those by a 14th or 15th year of public-financed schooling, while others could be graduated after 10 or 11 years.

Isn't it possible that some children could start school at age three or four instead of age five? Isn't it possible that some children aren't ready at age five?

Practically, there would be great problems in determining who is "ready" to graduate or who is "ready" to start school, but as this annual commencement time nears an end and our system begins on another academic year it's interesting to consider.

Maybe all this is just an "academic" exercise. Maybe, someday, the change will come.

The Family Lawyer

Teaching Someone To Drive

One the day Margaret got a learner's permit, her boy friend Fred took her out for a driving lesson. As they approached another car, waiting at a stop light, Margaret suddenly "froze." Worse, so did Fred.

Result: a collision, with considerable damage to the other car. In due course, the driver filed a damage suit against Fred.

"I'm not liable," Fred protested in court. "A driving teacher does not guarantee that his pupil will drive carefully."

Nevertheless, the court held him liable — not for Margaret's bad driving but for his own bad teaching. The judge said Fred should have made some effort, either by word or gesture, to avert the crash.

According to law, if you take on the responsibility of teaching someone to drive, you also take on the responsibility of doing so with reasonable care.

However, the law does recognize that a teacher's control has practical limits. In another case, after the driving lesson was supposed to be over, the pupil — acting on impulse — started the car again and jerked forward. The teacher shouted a warning and pulled the emergency break, but not quickly enough to avoid hitting a pedestrian.

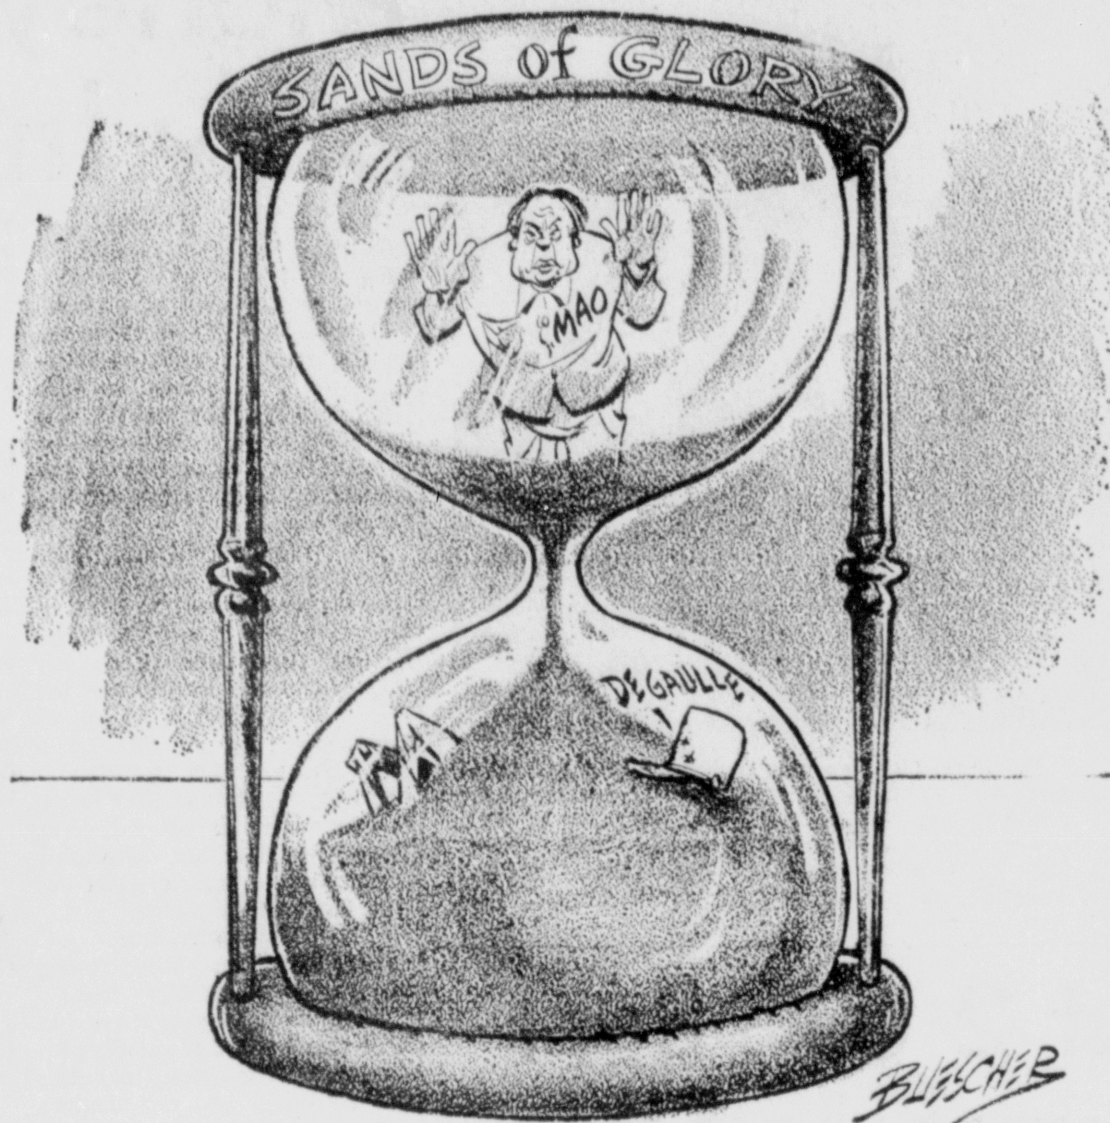

This time a court ruled that, while the teacher did have a special responsibility, he had fulfilled that responsibility by his efforts.

Nor are you held to a teacher's responsibility if you do not, in fact, occupy that role: Thus: When an accident resulted from the improper parking of a car by the roadside, a claim was filed not only against the driver of the car but also against his passenger. It seems that while the driver was parking the car, the passenger had remarked:

"There, I think you are far enough off the road."

But the court ruled that the passenger could not be held liable for merely giving bad advice. The judge said the occupant of a car does not take over the role — and the responsibility — of a teacher, just by trying to be helpful.

IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK!

Computers Given Elementary Chores

NEW YORK (AP) — When it appeared on the business scene in numbers a decade or more ago the electronic computer was misunderstood and often as not was relegated to menial jobs. A survey now shows the same is true today.

"Overqualified and underemployed," is the conclusion reached by Research Institute of America after analyzing replies from 2,500 companies of all sizes. It placed 90 per cent of all industrial computers in that category.

It found them doing routine chores—payrolls, bookkeeping, accounts receivable and payable, inventory control, sales and analyses—instead of helping management make top-level decisions.

Sampling

In fact, it found also that companies plan to continue using computers in elementary chores, "despite the ballyhooed benefits from computer-assisted top management decision-making."

A sampling of opinion from electronic data processing managers tended to confirm the suggestion that computers could help business a lot more if they were more imaginatively used.

Said one manager: "Owning a computer is for some companies like an individual owning the Queen Elizabeth to transport him from his home in Hoboken, N.J., to his office in Manhattan."

The reason for not fully utilizing the machine, said another EDP manager, is that business is now buying swift, complicated second and third generation equipment but trying to run them with men who are only first or second generation managers.

"You can't expect a guy right out of college to know all the possibilities of computer utilization," he said.

"Most machines are so fast that they can handle several jobs almost simultaneously," he explained. "But most managers haven't the scope to keep them fully employed. There is an art to utilization."

Fellow Patient Strikes Man Dead

DETROIT (AP) — An 80-year-old man, Mike Wunk, died in a Detroit convalescent home Tuesday after police said he was injured when struck with a plastic water pitcher by a 74-year-old fellow patient.

Wunk suffered from shock and multiple lacerations of the scalp, reported Detective Sgt. Dan McCarthy.

A nurse said Wunk was attacked without provocation.

Police took into custody another patient at the hospital.

Police Seize Obscene Films

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit police say they confiscated obscene material valued at $30,000 in a raid Tuesday of a company, which deals in discount novelties.

Detroit Police Sgt. Richard Arrington said 100 rolls of pornographic films, books, records and other obscene materials were seized in the raid at the Bizon Sales Co. The firm deals in discount novelties.

The owner of the store, Isadore Golstein, 58, of Southfield, was taken into custody for questioning.

Despite this tendency to underestimate the computer's ability, the survey shows that companies have accepted the cerebral servant to a great extent. More than 60 per cent of respondents now use or plan within a year to use computers.

"Today, any company with more than 200 employees or $7 million in sales that is not using a computer is in the minority," concluded the institute, a privately owned business advisory firm.

Hire Best People

Not all those who use computers are owners or renters, however. Many companies send their work out to computer service facilities, much as a housewife sends out the wash, and receive back a package of proposed data.

Black Violence Linked To OEO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal poverty agency is investigating reports that staff members of a foundation granted nearly $1 million under President Nixon's black capitalism project were involved in violence at a North Carolina college last month.

Charles Collins, an inspector in the Office of Economic Opportunity, was sent to North Carolina earlier this week to check on complaints that employees of the Foundation for Community Development were linked to the May 21 gun battle at North Carolina A&T at Greensboro in which one student was killed.

The foundation was given $900,000, funded under OEO's Special Impact program, to develop black capitalism projects in Durham, N.C. It also received $60,000 from the Commerce Department's Economic Development Administration.

The Durham program is the Nixon administration's first big pilot project in minority business enterprise and represents the first of $10 million in OEO grants to be allocated before the end of the month to businesses owned by minority groups.

The OEO has already released $40,000 of the grant to the foundation and agency officials say more money might be allotted in the next two weeks, depending on the investigation of the program.

But many of Durham's white leaders have protested to the OEO not to release money through the 15-month-old foundation, an outgrowth of the North Carolina Fund.

Bill Bans Guns From Campuses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to ban firearms and bombs from college campuses was introduced Tuesday by Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich.

The bill, he told a news conference, would apply to all guns, explosives and incendiary devices.

"However," he added, "it exempts law enforcement officers, members of the armed forces carrying weapons in the line of duty and persons acting under the supervision of the institution."

O'Hara's bill would provide penalties of up to five years in prison and a fine up to $10,000.

The institute said, companies using outside facilities indicated they were happier with results than those with "in-house machines." Outside service facilities often have highly experienced personnel.

For those companies that are contemplating the purchase or rental of machines the veteran users offer this advice:

—Allow one or two years of planning and preparation before installing a computer.

—Hire the best people obtainable. Use a highly competent EDP manager from the very beginning of planning.

—Involve all levels of management in decisions involving the purchase or rental. Their understanding and support is essential.

—Examine the economics of your project. Current systems and procedures might be adequate to handle the work load you have in mind.

Never forget, in other words, that it's people who run computers and not the other way around.

String Collector Was Happiest Man

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — I cannot understand people who like to throw things away.

A friend of mine, as soon as he gets this week's issue of a magazine, immediately takes last week's issue and thrusts it into the incinerator, whether he has finished reading it or not.

Another friend, when he buys a new pair of shoes, has the habit of discarding an old pair. He follows the same policy with suits, neckties, hats and girl friends.

When I ask him why, he says in surprise: "Why not? Who wants to clutter up his life?"

Well, for one, I do. I believe that clutter is one of the few things that make life meaningful.

It is my philosophy that when a person throws away anything that has belonged to him, he is discarding his own immortality. One of the happiest men I ever met was a string collector.

Good For Business

He would fit into a great ball several feet thick and put it on display outside a filling station he ran in a small Kansas town. "People think I'm a bit odd," he said cheerfully. "But so far as I know, this is the second biggest ball of this particular kind of string on the whole wide world."

"The only guy who has a bigger ball is getting pretty well up in years, and I think in time I'll beat him. Meanwhile folks who have heard about my ball of string come from miles away to see how much it's grown, and while they're here they usually have me fill up their gas tanks, so it's good for business."

So far I haven't become a specialist in saving like that string collector. I save just about everything—old friends, old enemies, old love letters, old menu cards, and old clothing.

I still keep and wear a sweat shirt I bought in 1939. I still keep and wear an overcoat I bought in Canada in 1941. I still have one of the good luck combat boots I wore through the World War II and took later to Korea. The reason I don't have

The bidding:

Opening lead — queen of hearts.

One of the basic principles of defense is that you do not credit a declarer with a hand that automatically gives him the contract. Instead you work on the premise that the contract can be defeated. You try to find a weak spot that is consistent with the bidding, and you exploit that assumed weakness in an effort to beat the contract.

Take this hand where South is in four spades and West leads the queen of hearts. Declarer wins with the king and draws three rounds of trumps, ending in dummy.

He next plays the three of clubs and loses the jack to West's queen. What should West play now?

Actually, there is only one card he can lead at this point to defeat the contract. That card is the jack of diamonds.

If he leads it, South goes down one; if he leads any other card, South makes the contract.

The jack is the killing return because declarer cannot now avoid the loss of three diamond tricks, whether he covers with dummy's queen or not. But if West leads the ace of diamonds or a low diamond in attacking the suit, South can escape with only two diamond losers and so make the contract.

When West takes the queen of clubs, he can count declarer for five trump tricks, the A-K of hearts and ace of clubs. Furthermore, it is obvious that South took a club finesse with a holding that included the K-J. This brings declarer to nine tricks.

If West also credits South with the king of diamonds, he might just as well fold up his cards and concede the contract. He should assume, instead, that East has the king of diamonds and lead the jack as the one and only hope of capturing three diamond tricks and putting declarer down one.

both of them is that the other one was stolen from me by a housemaid in Tokyo who thought that, if one was missing, I'd leave the other behind. Well, I didn't.

Nothing But Junk

Now and then my daughter Tracy complains about the mounting debris in our apartment.

"Dad," she says, "you can't save everything!"

Why can't I? I just jumble some of it together in a big paper box and put it in storage in the basement. I've got 22 boxes there now, and getting my 23rd one ready.

"It's nothing but junk, Dad," says Tracy, who is nearer than most teen-agers.

Junk? Nonsense. That's not junk—it's me. It's living history, a cross-section of one man's life. One of these days when Uncle Sam does his duty by me and puts me on the Social Security rolls, I'll move it all to a small house in the country and spend the rest of my years pawing through it and live again the world I once knew.

Plane Rams Car At Airport

DETROIT (AP) — A small plane rammed a parked car after crashing at Detroit City Airport Tuesday night but two persons in the auto escaped injury.

Frank Ward, 48, an instructor pilot, was injured critically and his student pilot, Robert McCollum, 28, of Mount Clemens, was slightly hurt when their single-engine Cessna crashed during a practice flight.

Police said McCollum was flying the plane, which was nearly airborne when it suddenly dipped, crashing through a wooden barricade and brushing against the parked car.

The two occupants, Lawrence Fafford, 21, and Carol Boettcher, 17, both of Warren, were uninjured.

Ann Landers

Bachelor Wonders Where Ladies Are

Dear Ann Landers: I have a suggestion for the woman who had such a terrible time getting her husband up in the morning. Here it is:

Before you turn in for the night, put a tall glass of water in the refrigerator. In the morning, when the lord and master is supposed to get up, call him once. Make sure he hears you say he has exactly three minutes to haul his frame out of bed. If he is not up in three minutes, get the glass of water and let him have it, right in the kisser.

Of course, you'll have an angry husband on your hands and a wet bed to change, but you'll never have to call him a second time from then on.

My husband didn't speak to me for a week after I did this to him, but now, 30 years later, it is one of the stories he likes to tell best.—Madison, Wisconsin

Dear Mad: I'm printing your letter but it appears without my endorsement. Any wife who wants to try this stunt does so at her own risk. I accept no responsibility for shiners, skull damage or rear-ranged bridge work.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 16-year-old girl with an unusual problem. I am dating a boy who is 19. Rex has already had one year of college. I enjoy his company a lot, but I wonder if he enjoys mine. He does all the talking. Last night, for example, I don't think I said five sentences. It seems I was nodding and smiling the whole time. It was all I could do to get in a word such as, "Really?" and "Oh?" and "That's great!"

I don't want Rex to think I'm stupid. Do you know of a book on the art of conversation? If so, I'd like to buy it.—One Word Wendy

Dear One: You don't need a book on the art of conversation. It sounds as if you have developed a far more important art—the art of listening. Congratulations. And don't worry about Rex thinking you are a dumbbell. Better to keep quiet and be thought a fool than to open your mouth and remove all doubt.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 32, 5 feet 11 inches, 185 pounds, a good bowler, like to dance, own a good little business, have money in the bank, and want to get married. I've been looking seriously for two years and have found nothing but bar-fliers, tramps, gold diggers, lame brains and psychos.

Where are the decent women, Ann? You're the lady with the answers. Please tell me.—Willing and Able

Dear Will: The "decent women" are not riveted to barstools waiting to be picked up. And they aren't loafing around the beaches or dancing with other dollys at the discotheques. There are plenty of decent women in offices, working—in schools, learning—and in hospitals, nursing. They can also be found devoting their spare time to worthy causes, church projects and political action groups.

If you want a peach, don't hunt in a lemon grove, Buddy.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Rock Girl To Study Samoyed Spinning Art

Miss Mary Lepisto left Wednesday for Owen, Wis., for a two week visit with Mrs. Anne Holopainen. While there, Mary hopes to learn how to spin yarn from dog hair.

A picture of Mary was used on a Wisconsin TV station and told how the hair from the dog is spun into yarn and from it she makes stockings, mittens and sweaters.

Mrs. Holopainen became interested in Samoyed dogs while visiting her aunt, the late Mrs. Josephine Lepisto of Rock. Mrs. Lepisto taught her how to brush the dog and how to comb, card and spin the hair into yarn. Mrs. Lepisto was Mary's grandmother.

She died Nov. 2, so now Mary, age 11, too young to learn the art of spinning from her grandmother before she died, hopes to learn it in Owen. Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lepisto of Rock.

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Twin daughters of a retired Army colonel marry West Point graduates Wednesday, making it three daughters now that he's given in marriage to Military Academy men. All the weddings resulted from blind dates the colonel maneuvered.

Imperialists Fear Red Unity: Brezhnev

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev opened the Kremlin-dominated International Communist Conference today with a charge that imperialists of the world are afraid of Communist unity. The conference, boycotted by China and several other major parties, has been promoted by Moscow as a step toward Communist unity. Seventy-five of the world's Communist parties are attending.

Tass said the delegates were greeted warmly by Brezhnev at the opening session in St. George Hall of the Great Kremlin Palace. There has been no word on how long the conference will last.

Tass quoted Brezhnev as saying the unnamed imperialists "will do all they can to belittle the importance of the conference and to present its proceedings and results in a distorted light."

But he added that the mere fact that the conference has been convened "testifies to the realization by Communists of their great responsibility for the destiny of peace and social progress."

Groundbreaking Set For Friday By Four Seasons

The Four Seasons Nursing Center of America, building a facility that will serve the Escanaba area with 106 beds, will hold a groundbreaking ceremony at 10 a. m. Friday, it is announced today.

Participating will be officials of the corporation, which has local financial backing, and civic and municipal representatives.

Mayor Cecil B. Chase, Chamber of Commerce Manager Walter Lewke, and representatives of the Trades & Labor Council and other groups will attend the ceremony to which the public is invited.

The Four Seasons Nursing Center is being constructed just west of the Immanuel Lutheran Church on 5th Ave. S., is designed with four wings, and when completed will employ 50 persons.

Northern pike fishing continues hot in the AuTrain and Forest Lake Power Basins.

Bass fishing should start picking up as the bass are just beginning to get on the spawning beds.

Officers report that mosquitoes and black flies are out in full force so be sure to bring your repellent on that fishing trip. Wood ticks are also plentiful the department warns.

To avoid ticks the department recommends staying away from areas in close proximity to moisture, particularly grassy openings, fallen timber, undergrowth, slashings and second growths. Wear dark clothing, trousers tucked in boots, sleeves down, and collars buttoned.

If a tick imbeds itself, above all, do not attempt to pull him loose as infection will occur if the mouthpart of the tick breaks off in your flesh, officers said.

A good way to remove a tick is to spread Vaseline, salty lard, kerosene or chloroform over the area where the tick has entered the skin. These irritants usually cause the tick to let go voluntarily.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Most Rev. James P. Shannon has confirmed he submitted his resignation last Nov. 23 as auxiliary bishop of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of St. Paul-Minneapolis and as pastor of St. Helena's church in Minneapolis.

In a letter to the Minneapolis Star, Bishop Shannon said he wanted to "set the record straight" and reveal some facts not made public following reports last week that he had resigned.

Fire Truck Is Painted Yellow

OAK PARK (AP) — Next time you're in suburban Oak Park and you hear a fire engine's siren, look for yellow, not red. That's the color of the city's newest fire truck.

The 85-foot $84,000 bucket aerial fire truck, the first of its kind in the state, was painted yellow for "greater safety and visibility," Fire Marshall Charles Tice said when he unveiled the thing Wednesday.

Tice said if any driver manages to get into an accident with the "jolly yellow giant," as it is now known, "the city will demand he have a complete eye examination."

Kelley Censures School District

LANSING (AP)—State Attorney General Frank Kelley Wednesday censured Troy School District officials for their handling of some school bond issue funds, but said there was no basis for prosecution on charges of financial irregularities.

Kelley's report climaxes six months of investigation into charges of mismanagement of some $500,000 of a 1965 $4,000,000 bond issue.

The report does say the school officials acted improperly in using $105,415.43 of the issue for school supplies and athletic uniforms, but Kelley said the issue is a political, not a legal, question.

He recommended that all of the money taken from the bond issue be repaid from the general operating budget, which should have been paid for the supplies and uniforms in the first place.

Kelley found other, more serious charges unfounded, including the use of $500,000 extra on building and site improvements, purchase of land at inflated prices, and poor handling of site purchases.

"There is no evidence that the board of education... acted in any other interest except the best interest of the school district," Kelley concluded.

Governor To Address Outdoor Writers

Gov. William Milliken has accepted an invitation to attend the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association (MOWA) convention at Blaney Park and will address the group Saturday night.

The governor is scheduled to arrive at the Schoolcraft County airport at 5 p.m. Saturday where he will be met by a MOWA delegation and local city and county officials.

The Michigan governor will speak following a seven o'clock banquet at the Blaney Inn.

MOWA president Robert S. Marshall of the Ogemaw County Herald in West Branch, will preside at the Saturday evening festivities. Acceptances have also been received from State Senator Thomas Schweigert and Rep. Charles H. Varnum.

Dr. Roy Johnson, U.S. Department of Interior, Washington, D.C., will also address the Saturday night gathering.

Cake-Cutting

A huge cake-cutting ceremony commemorating MOWA's 25th birthday will also be a feature of the Saturday evening festivities.

Approximately 150 MOWA's are expected to attend the convention with registration underway today at Blaney Park.

Conventioners are being met at the Schoolcraft County airport by Top O' Lake Chamber of Commerce members and provided with transportation to Blaney Park.

Friday's schedule of activities include a visit to the Big Game Experimental Station at Shingleton, lunch at the Seney National Wildlife Refuge and dedication of a MOWA Historical Marker at the Blaney Museum.

The Historical Marker will recall the founding of the organization which took place at Blaney in January of 1944.

Fishing Tournaments

Saturday's calendar of planned activities include fishing tournaments on both South Manistique Lake in Curtis and Lake Michigan and Indian Lake in Manistique.

Half of the group will visit the Manistique area with chamber of commerce members as hosts for the day.

A noon luncheon at the Surf is planned for Saturday plus a tour of scenic spots in the area, fishing expeditions (with craft donated by local boat owners), and a get-acquainted session with chamber members.

New Junior High Being Discussed

A new junior high? Or should present facilities be remodeled?

The Advisory Committee to the Area board of education discussed these questions in depth when they met Monday night for their regular monthly meeting.

The group touched on expanding facilities to include physical education, library, music, vocational education and hot lunch programs.

Other suggested projects discussed included a building program to include a large gymnasium with band and home economics facilities and expanded library facilities. Relocating the library in what is now the New Gym, converting other space to a cafeteria for 200 students with the cafeteria doing double-duty as a study hall and theater stage were other ideas from committee members.

It was also pointed out that there is considerable area support for a swimming pool, and that possibly one should be considered.

The committee is planning to tour schools, possibly in the Kingsford and Iron Mountain vicinity, which have implemented remodeling programs such as those being discussed in Manistique.

The discussion was merely an attempt to sound out alternatives and needs and possible future action, the committee stressed.

Earlier agreeing that the Manistique district's greatest need is to bring together the 7th and 8th grade students scattered throughout the district, the committee is concentrating their efforts to provide a central location which will allow full participation in home economics, shop and library programs.

On The Sidelines

With Mike Utt

Gary Burley, Menominee High School principal and crusader for the Upper Peninsula in the fight against the Michigan High School Athletic Association's plan for a four week basketball tournament, recently received a letter written by Rep. John D. Fayant of Kingsford which was also sent Allen W. Bush, State Director of Athletics for the state of Michigan.

In his letter, Payant told Bush that he was fully aware that he didn't have any official say in the matter, but, that as an elected official, he would like to go on record as being completely against the position taken by the representative council of the Michigan High School Athletic Association. He also said that he did not quite understand why the council chose to ignore the requests of educators, coaches, sports-writers and other people from the U. P. in regard to the four week tourney.

Burley has vowed not to give up the fight to keep the state tournament on a three weekend basis and Payant pledged, as a public official and a private citizen, to assist Burley and other concerned people in the U. P. in planning the state tournament on a three weekend basis.

Apparently the Michigan High School Athletic Association does not completely understand the problems of Upper Peninsula schools, in regard to financial and educational troubles which would be brought about by a four weekend tournament. Or maybe they do realize all the facts in the case and just don't care what happens to the U. P. schools.

For a teacher, the three weekend tournament is bad enough. The students are excited and jumpy if their school's team keeps winning along the road to Lansing and trying to get any educational values across to these students is just about impossible. The council may say that with the present setup, students miss just as much school with the quarter-finals being played in the middle of the week and finals following on the weekend. After talking to area educators about the matter, they all came up with the same answer — they would rather have the students miss school at the same time rather than have the quarter-finals and finals played on two separate weekends.

Financially speaking, U. P. fans wishing to follow their favorite teams would be at a great disability. Under the present setup, many fans are able to follow their teams all the way into the finals by taking a few days off work. But who could afford to take days off in two separate weeks in order to watch their teams play under the proposed change? Believe it or not, fans mean a lot to a team, especially in such strange surroundings as the state basketball tournament.

For Upper Peninsula schools, the cost would be tremendous. What school could afford to send their basketball team downstate on a two week trip? And if they didn't do it that way, imagine the cost of sending a team downstate for a quarter-final game, bringing them back home again, sending them back down a week later and bringing them back home again after the tournament was over. What ever figure you come up with, also add in the cost of room and board for 12 players, two coaches and two student managers. Our schools are in bad enough shape financial wise, let's not make it any worse than it already is.

Perhaps if the Michigan High School Athletic Association continues to persist with such an unfair idea, schools in the U. P. should look into the plan brought forth by Larry Ebsch, Marinette Eagle Star sportswriter, who says that the U. P. should have its own basketball tournament. A tournament of this kind would be a big draw in the U. P. and some suitable arrangement could be made whereas small schools would have a chance against bigger schools. Wisconsin and Minnesota are only two of many states which have one tournament for all and their arrangement seems to work rather well.

Babe Ruth Play Begins Saturday

The 1969 Babe Ruth Baseball season will open this Saturday, June 7, with a tripleheader at the league field on South 14th St. and 12th Ave.

The first game of the big day of baseball will find Teamsters Local 328 meeting the Escanaba Banks at 1 p.m. Kiwanis Club and Insurance Agents are featured in the second game at 3 and last year's co-champions, Mead Paper Co. and UAW-CIO Local 632, clash in the finale at 5.

The Babe Ruth baseball program was first organized in Escanaba in 1952 and is now in its 18th season. Each year an all-star team is chosen from the six teams in the league to compete in the U.P. Tournament as a qualifying step to the state tourney.

In 1953, the local all-stars won the state title and placed second in 1956. In 1962, the first time the state playoffs were held in the U.P., the Escanaba all-stars placed third in the event staged at Escanaba.

In 1963, Escanaba eliminated Menominee from the U.P. tourney, but were eliminated in the second game. In 1967, the all-stars won the U.P. championship but lost two straight games at Harper Woods. Last year the local all-stars won their first two games in the U.P. Tourney at Bessemer by big scores, only to lose to Ishpeming in the finals.

The following sponsors and managers are directly responsible for the success of the program which provides wholesome recreation for 13, 14 and 15 year old boys of the area: Mead Paper Co., Bill Pfister and Dick Johnson; Teamsters Local 328, Phil Hiney and Danny Ritter; Escanaba Banks, Dick Lewis; Insurance Agents Association, Dean Lewis and Dale Flynn; UAW-CIO Local 632, Mike Utt; and Kiwanis Club, Gordon Nevala and Don Meunier.

Umpires for this season will be Mike Nelson, John Nelson and Leroy Nelson.

Kaline Ignites 10th Inning Rally As Tigers Nip Angels

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Al Kaline won his battle of the ancients from Hoyt Wilhelm, the World War II vintage knuckler.

So the Detroit Tigers winged homeward today having snapped a three-game losing streak after Kaline drove in four runs and ignited a tenth-inning rally which gave the defending world champs a 5-4 victory over the California Angels Wednesday night.

Kaline, returning to the lineup after twisting an ankle last Saturday in Seattle and missing three games, singled to left with one out in the tenth to open the Detroiters' winning rally.

Tiger Manager Mayo Smith then replaced his veteran star with pinch-runner Dick Tracewski, who promptly stole second and went to third on a passed ball. One out later, Tracewski came home on an infield single by Bill Freehan and Wilhelm was saddled with his fifth loss against two wins.

Kaline, though, was the night's big hero. He doubled home two runs with a line single off Angel starter George Brunet in the first after singles by Dick McAuliffe and Jim Northrup.

He brought home another run in the third with an infield out and hit a sacrifice fly in the seventh.

That gave the Tigers a 4-2 lead, but Joe Sparrma, who hurled a one-hitter against Seattle his last time out, was knocked out in the seventh after yielding eight hits.

Pat Dobson replaced him with two runners on base and then California catcher Tom Satriano tied the score with a two-out bloop single.

Satriano drove in California's first run in the second with a sacrifice fly and Aurelio Rodriguez singled home a run in the fifth to complete the Angel scoring.

The Tigers, flying home to Detroit today, have the night off, then take on the rough Oakland Athletics, in second place in the American League's Western Division, Friday night with Denny McLain scheduled to pitch.

The Wednesday win did Detroit no good in the standings, as Baltimore maintained its 8½ game bulge over the Bengals with a 6-1 rout of the A's.

Carew Steals Victory As Twins Tip Yankees

By The Associated Press
Minnesota Manager Billy Martin says stealing home is not a forgotten art, but American League pitchers are having trouble getting the picture where Rod Carew is concerned.

The Twins' second baseman swiped home for the fifth time in five attempts this season in Minnesota's 4-2 victory over the New York Yankees Wednesday night and closed in on a couple of records. He also rapped out three hits and raised his major league-leading average to .399.

Elsewhere, Baltimore trounced Oakland 6-1, Detroit nipped California 5-4 in 10 innings, Cleveland pounded Seattle 10-4 and Washington beat Kansas City 3-1. In the only afternoon action, the Chicago White Sox hammered Boston 7-2.

Winning Run
Carew doubled in the sixth and eventually scored the winning run on Graig Nettles' sacrifice fly and stole home with an insurance run in the eighth on the front end of a triple steal against Lindy McDaniel.

"Martin tells me to watch the pitcher when I get on third," said Carew, who has stolen only 10 bases all-time. "Watch his windup, his timing. The slide is important, too. But I can't tell you all my secrets because I might get caught."

Martin said all five of Carew's big thefts "have been straight steals home. Stealing home is not a forgotten art but an art that hasn't been used enough." He said the threat of stealing home "creates balks, wild pitches. This makes the pitcher give you a good pitch to hit."

Nearing Record
The American League record for stealing home in one season is six by Detroit's Ty Cobb in 1915 and Cleveland's Bob Roth in 1917. Pete Reiser of Brooklyn set the major league mark with seven in 1946.

Leo Cardenas and Ted Uhlenstedt singled in the fifth and reliever Ron Perranoski picked up his 12th save by halting a bases-loaded threat in the eighth as the Twins increased their lead in the American League West to 3½ games over Oakland. Bill Robinson homered for the Yankees.

Don Buford belted the first pitch of the game over the field fence to ignite Baltimore's victory over Oakland. Boog Powell also homered in the first, Clay Darymple connected for the first time as American Leaguer in the fourth, Powell doubled home another run in the seventh and Brooks Robinson hit a pair of sacrifice flies as the Orioles won for the 15th time in 18 games and boosted their lead over Boston in the AL East to 4½ games.

Tom Phoebus, 6-1, hurled a four-hitter for the Orioles and the only run he surrendered was unearned.

Indian Massacre
Lee Maye doubled home a pair of runs and Tony Horton singled in two more in a five-run Cleveland fifth against Seattle. Vern Fuller homered in the ninth for the Indians, Sam McDowell struck out 10 Pilots in 7½ innings and reliever Stan Williams fanned three more.

Ken McMullen and Bernie Allen stroked run-scoring singles after Frank Howard's double and an intentional walk to Mike Epstein in the sixth inning as Washington beat Kansas City behind Joe Coleman's first complete game since April 9. Epstein hit his 13th homer in the fourth.

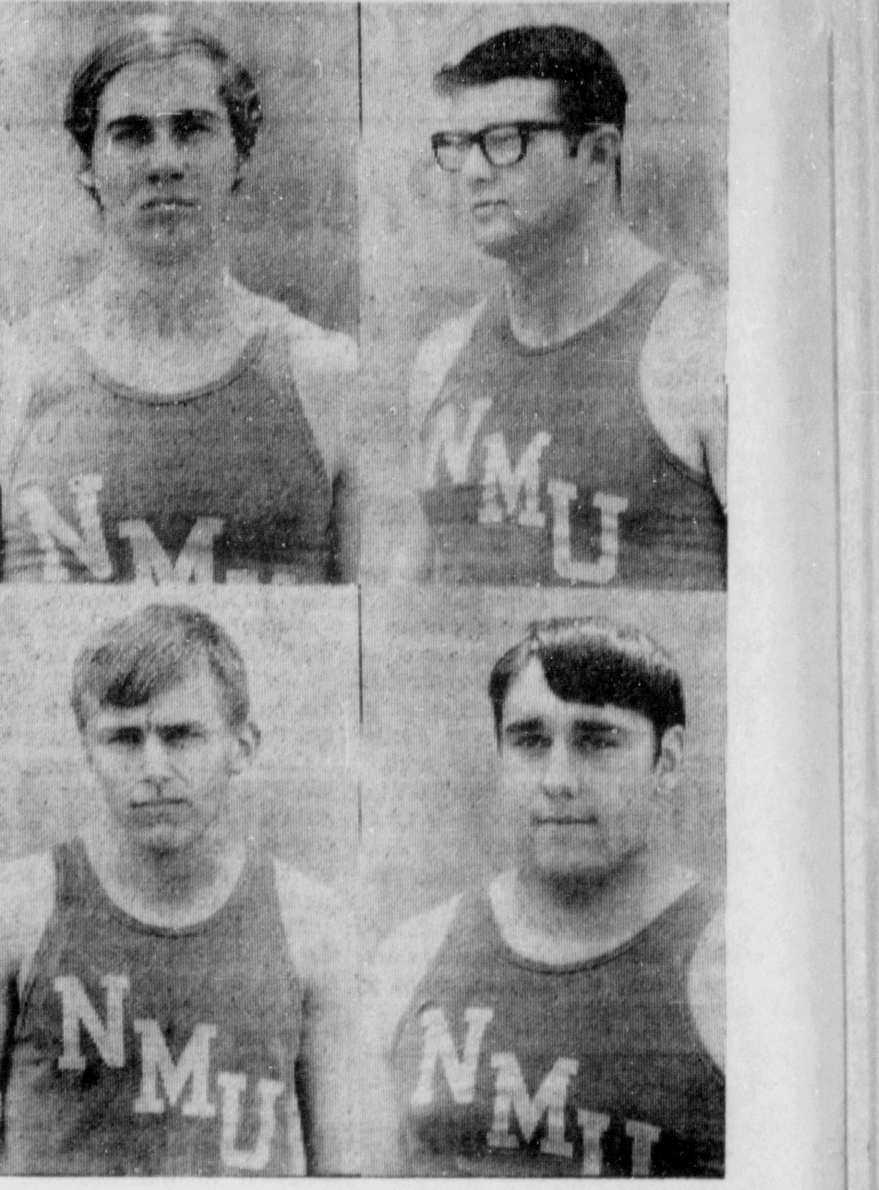

The White Sox gave the Red Sox a taste of their own home run medicine. Rookies Ed Herrmann and Gail Hopkins and veteran Bobby Knoop accounted for six runs with homers as Chicago walloped Boston behind the strong pitching of Tommy John. Herrmann's homer was his first in the majors.

Babe Ruth

All 16 year old boys who played in the Babe Ruth baseball program last year are urged to return their uniforms to the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center or to 1415 16th Ave. S. by tonight. These suits are badly needed for the players picked by team managers to fill their rosters for this season. Boys now to the league may pick up uniforms tonight from 7 to 9 p.m.

The Mead Paper team will practice at the Babe Ruth Field Friday afternoon at 4:30.

Northern Honors Spring Athletes

MARQUETTE—Most valuable players and 26 letter winners in three spring sports have been announced by Northern Michigan University.

Named as outstanding performers for coach Al Claremont's track squad were Jim Hansen and John Vardigan, both of Escanaba. Hansen, a weight man, led the Wildcats in scoring with 36 points in seven meets and had three firsts. Vardigan, a pole vaulter and dash man, had 35½ points and one first.

Also given individual recognition were Tom Portman of Ann Arbor and Steve Schram of Gladstone, runners-up as outstanding performers. Portman, a dash man, had 35½ points and two firsts, while Schram, who competed in both dashes and middle distances, had 34½ points and three firsts.

Two Northern track records fell this spring. Tom Faraday of Royal Oak cleared 13 feet 5½ inches in the pole vault and Mike Burke of Dearborn Heights went 41 feet 11½ inches in the triple jump.

Most valuable player honors in tennis were shared this season by Bill Stream and Gary Friestrom, both of Crystal Falls. Competing as a doubles team, Stream and Friestrom swept eight straight matches for an unbeaten season. Jack Shepich of Stambaugh was named captain-elect of coach Glenn Brown's tennis squad.

Lino Marini of Northfield, Ill., captured the most valuable award on coach Gil Canale's golf team. Marini, playing number one, had a 78.5 stroke average and accounted for 13 team points.

Upper Peninsula athletes, in addition to those already mentioned, receiving spring sport letters include Dick Balding of Gladstone, track; Terry Duval of Kingsford, track; Garrett Lefler of Ishpeming, golf; Ralph Hernandez and Dave Koskey of Marquette, golf; Larry Ruffatto of Marquette, tennis; Jack Shepich of Stambaugh, tennis; and John Francisco of Wakefield, track.

Giants Extend Montreal's Loss String To 18 Games

By The Associated Press
Big Giants, little Giants... they're all 10 feet tall to Gene Mauch and his Incredible Shrinking Men.

The bottom of the San Francisco batting order fell upon Mauch Wednesday night, leading the Giants to an 8-3 victory over Montreal that ran the Expos' losing streak to 18 games—a record for major league expansion clubs.

Jack Hiatt, Hal Lanier, pitcher Mike McCormick and Don Mason stroked the big hits off rookie Mike Wegener in a five-run fourth inning explosion that sent the Expos spinning within five losses of the all-time mark—set by Mauch's 1961 Philadelphia Phillies.

Mets Wins Again

The New York Mets, whose 17-game expansion tailspin in 1962 was eclipsed by Montreal, equaled their record winning streak of seven games by nipping Los Angeles 1-0 in a 15-inning struggle.

Striking San Diego blanked Philadelphia 3-0; torrid Cincinnati swept past Pittsburgh 5-3; St. Louis edged Atlanta 4-3 and the Chicago Cubs topped Houston 5-4 in other National League games.

Wegener took a 3-0 lead into the fourth inning at Montreal, walked Willie Mays and then got two quick outs—Willie McCovey on a pop-up and Ken Henderson on strikes.

Giants Take Lead

But Dave Marshall drew another walk, Hiatt and Lanier rapped run-scoring singles and McCormick sent the Giants ahead 4-3 with a two-run double before Mason's RBI single capped the rally.

Three ninth inning runs wrapped up McCormick's third victory and left Mauch bleeding sarcasm in the tomlike Montreal clubhouse.

the fourth," said the embattled Expos' pilot.

Lanier and Mason, who went into the game batting .221 and .214, respectively, each went 3-for-5 to pace the Giants' 12-hit attack.

Break Tie

The Mets broke a scoreless tie in the 15th when Tommie Agee raced home from first on a single by Wayne Garrett that skipped past center fielder Willie Davis for a two-base error.

After Met second baseman Al Weis cut down pinch runner Billy Grabarkewitz at the plate in the top of the 15th on a brilliant defensive play, Bud Harrelson drew a leadoff walk from Pete Mikkelsen in the bottom half. Agee forced Harrelson at second, then sped around the bases when Davis overran Garrett's sharp single to center.

The victory enabled the Mets to match their seven-game winning streak of July, 1966, and sent them two games over the .500 mark.

Tight Battle

Southpaw Jack DeLauro, making his first major league start, duelled Dodger fastballer Bill Singer through nine brilliant innings. Each gave up two hits. Singer retiring the first 18 Met batters and DeLauro setting down the last 19 Dodgers he faced.

Singer also fanned 10 to take the league strikeout lead with 92.

"A year or two years ago, we lose a game like that," said Met star Cleon Jones. "That's the difference. We're not beating ourselves anymore."

Pitcher Dick Kelley knocked in two runs with a double and collaborated with two relievers on a four-hitter that propelled the expansion Padres to their sixth consecutive victory.

Cools Phillies

Kelley held the Phillies hitless for 4½ innings and checked them on three hits until the ninth, when he needed mop-up help from Jack Baldschun and Billy McCool.

Trailing 3-2 in the ninth, the Reds rebounded for three runs and their 11th triumph in 12 games to move within two games of Atlanta's fading West Division leaders.

Fred Whitfield's pinch single delivered the tying run and Jim Stewart singled home the winner before Bob Tolan's RBI double capped the rally. Matty Alou hit his first homer since 1967 for the Pirates, who took the lead with two runs in the eighth.

Lou Brock singled in the eighth, stole second for his 24th theft in 25 attempts and scored on a single by Vada Pinson, sending the Cardinals past the Braves, who have dropped six of seven. Bob Gibson gave up seven hits on the way to his seventh victory in 10 decisions.

Ferguson Jenkins boosted his pitching record to 8-2 as the Cubs reeled off their sixth straight victory behind Randy Hundley's three-run homer and a homer and run-scoring single by Ernie Banks.

MHS Presents Honors Assembly

The annual Honors Awards Assembly was held Wednesday morning at the Manistique High School.

The Inland-Ryerson scholarship went to Marcia Hubble with John W. Moffat, vice president and general manager of the Inland Line and Stone Co. making the presentation.

The Manistique Rotary Club scholarship was awarded Russell King with presentation by MHS principal Marvin Frederickson representing the club.

Stanley Arnold, representing the Manistique Teacher's Club, presented scholarship awards to Paul Babladelis and Kathy Hollik.

The Women's Club scholarship, with Mrs. J. Mauritz Carlson doing the honors, went to Dorothy Adams.

A nursing scholarship from the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Auxiliary went to Janice Goudreau. Mrs. William Drefs made the presentation.

School counselor Mrs. Lee Pappas presented the Lazarus and Rachel Rosenthal scholarship to Michael Demers.

Farral Glat, Shirley Osterhout, Joan Villemure and Merry Jo DeSautel won J. Joseph Herbert scholarships with Frederickson making the awards.

Charles Isaacson scholarships were given to Cindy Orlich, Arlene Jetty, Brenda Webber and Melinda Orr. Joseph Giovanni of the MHS faculty made the presentations.

Mrs. John LaPointe awarded the J. Joseph Herbert writing trophy to Marcia Hubble while speech trophies, presented by Principal Frederickson, went to Mary Beth Waters and Farral Glat.

Class valedictorian Marvin Miller received a one-year subscription to the Reader's Digest.

Certificates of Distinction went to retiring teachers Mrs. Chris Schnurer and Thor Reque. The teachers accepted their certificates while the student body gave them a standing ovation.

Library Group To Hear Worth

Jean Worth, retired editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, will be the principal speaker at a Library Workshop in Houghton on June 14. Worth will address the noon luncheon session.

The Workshop will discuss, in open forum, the pro's and con's of cooperatives, the status of library legislation in Michigan and Washington, and how a library can best serve the needs of the community.

Resource personnel from the State Library, Legislative committee, Michigan Library Association and Trustee Division personnel will be on hand.

Theme of the Workshop — "Today's problems cannot be solved with yesterday's solutions" — will involve librarians, trustees and other interested persons.

Earl H. LeBrasseur, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Mid-Peninsula Library Federation and trustee of the Manistique School and Public Library, will attend the Workshop to be held at the Portage Township Library.

Dog Racing Loses In House

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan House has had its first outing on the legislative track with a bill to establish greyhound racing.

But when the voting bell rang Wednesday night, neither could make a move.

The House meets today at 10 a.m. Offtrack betting, backed by Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, ran last and parochialism was scratched.

The issue, which some say could add as much as $15 million to the $19 million the state now takes in from thoroughbred horse and harness racing, remained alive, however, as sponsors nullified a defeat - bound rollcall vote.

Saying "Every dog has its day," Reps. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, and Roy Spencer, R-Attica, turned to rebuilding the support that so suddenly fell away.

Under the bill, little revenue actually would be turned over to the state. The lowest local government would get five per cent of the proceeds from its neighboring track and the controlling county would receive 10 per cent.

All counties would share 70 per cent of the annual proceeds, and licensed track operators would pay 5 per cent of all pari-mutuel wagers, plus one-half of the "breaks" — odd change saved from rounding off the value of winning tickets.

Much of the lower chamber's nine-hour session was taken up with rejection and reconsideration of a bill to limit the measures legislators could propose each session.

Durocher Gets Needle At Party

CHICAGO (AP)—Manager Leo "Lippy" Durocher got the needle this time.

At a bachelor party, attended by his Chicago Cubs' players, bridegroom - to-be Durocher purportedly received:

A toy bear from George Halas of the Chicago Bears.

A pair of tickets from Gussie Busch for the 1969 World Series between the Cardinals and Tigers.

A nose guard to accept sour umpire decisions.

A dum dum bullet for use if his Cubs fail to win the National League pennant.

And a wig from Yul Brynner.

The 63-year-old Cub manager will marry Lynne Walker Goldblatt June 19.

Sprinter Hines Defeats Horse

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — Sprinter Jimmy Hines proved Wednesday night he can beat a horse—at least with a 110-yard head start.

Hines, running 220 yards, beat a pacer called Business Man by 30 yards. The sprinter, who has signed a pro football contract with the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League, ran the 220 in 20.2 seconds around a curve at Audubon Raceway.

Hines won gold medals at the 1968 Olympics when he ran the 100 meters in the world record time of 9.9 seconds and anchored the 400-meter relay team.

AFL-CIO Meet To Hear Milliken

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—One prominent Republican will be sandwiched in between a roster of Democratic speakers at the sixth annual convention of the Michigan AFL-CIO June 9-11 at Grand Rapids.

Republican Gov. William Milliken will share the rostrum with state AFL-CIO President August (Gus) Scholle at the opening session Monday morning.

Top speaker Monday afternoon will be Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Tuesday morning speakers will include Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and Secretary of State James Hare. They will be followed in the afternoon by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Scholle and Executive Vice President William Marshall will be candidates for reelection.

Missing from the state ticket for the first time in 25 years will be Barney Hopkins, secretary-treasurer. Hopkins has announced his retirement after serving in the dual jobs since 1944 for both the AFL-CIO and its predecessor, the Michigan CIO Council.

Some 600 delegates representing 300,000 members will attend the convention at the Grand Rapids auditorium.

In 1873, New York made Memorial Day a state observance. Soon all states except a few in the South followed New York's example.

D-DAY PLUS 25 YEARS

One of the worst-mangled towns of the war was Caen.

Now, rebuilt, neat and new but with bloody memories.

THE JUNE 6 SILVER ANNIVERSARY of D-Day in World War II recalls these scenes. It was history's mightiest onslaught: a thousand planes and gliders dropped paratroopers in Normandy, 2,400 U. S. and British bombers attacked Nazi defenses as nearly 3 million Allied troops began their invasion. Ships of all kinds numbered 4,000.

Detroit's First Negro Mayor, Claims Austin

DETROIT (AP)—It didn't happen in Los Angeles, but Wayne County Auditor Richard H. Austin predicts it will in Detroit and he will become the second Negro mayor of a major U.S. city.

The 56-year-old son of a Pennsylvania coal miner predicted victory Wednesday as he announced he will file for the Sept. 9 primary in the nation's fifth largest city.

One week after Negro Councilman Thomas Bradley lost a bid to unseat Mayor Sam Yorty in Los Angeles, Austin rejected a newsman's suggestion that a white backlash could be in motion in the country.

"I am convinced a black can not only govern but that people in the United States are anxious and willing to consider a black on the basis of his merit," said the soft-spoken, graying Austin.

Infuriates Blacks
Negroes constitute an estimated 35 to 40 per cent of Detroit's 1.5 million residents, and Austin spoke primarily to them when he promised to "promote better understanding of police attitudes and conduct that tend to infuriate blacks."

His announcement focused heavily on police-community relations, troubled in recent years by violent flare-ups in inner city areas. The widely publicized incidents "offer more proof of behavior on the part of some police officers that breeds contempt," Austin said.

Apparently destined to become a keynote of his campaign is his demand that police "should be accountable to civilian authorities." Whether they should be accountable to the Common Council or to a civilian review board, Austin said he hasn't decided.

Loss Of Prestige

Austin promised "a new era of understanding" to Detroit whose government, he said, "has suffered a tremendous loss of prestige among black and white residents, but especially among black residents."

At Austin's side during his announcement was Robert Miller, an attorney who will run his campaign and who helped form the Kirwood group, a committee of black leaders.

Black militants in the Kirwood group reportedly have opposed Austin's candidacy because of his reputation as being too conservative. When asked about this, Austin defended himself, saying: "I listen to militant voices... these are the people who are impatient."

Austin said he, too, is impatient to right the wrongs which he said the present administration of Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has perpetrated against "the thousands of families—black and white—below the poverty line, the ill-fed, ill-housed, under-educated or mis-educated—those who lack adequate health care and the jobless."

He blamed the "stalemate and inaction" of city government on "the abysmal relations between the city administration and the Common Council," and he promised to "lead city government out of its deepening financial crisis."

There was a time . . .

when education consisted mainly of the three R's. There was also a time when the sick were healed through bleeding. And men fought evil through burning witches at the stake. They did so because that was the only way they knew.

But this is 1969. Tomorrow is 1970. And 30 years from now we'll be in the 21st century. Will your children and grandchildren be prepared to meet these challenges? Or will they be studying the 3 R's, bleeding the sick, and burning witches at the stake?
